

Tom Dillander

8.21.1954 - 2.7.2013

Tom was co-owner of Palomino Records, Dosado.com, Palomino Pressing, Yak Stak Speakers, Hanhurst's Music Services and a few square dance recording labels. He was also a square dance caller for the "Plus N More" and "A24U" clubs in Shepherdsville, KY.

Tom was injured in a horrific workplace accident on Monday, February 4, 2013 at the shop in Shepherdsville, Kentucky where he sustained burns on over 98% of his body. After a hard-fought battle, Tom could not overcome the injuries he sustained and passed away on Thursday, February 7, 2013 surrounded by his loving family.

Through his on-line memory book, Tom has been described as; a gentlemen, a man of integrity, a special friend, a wonderful person, loyal & helpful, a great square dance caller / instructor, a great asset to the square dance world, a great father and husband.

Tom and his wife Pam did not have medical coverage, leaving Pam to pay all expenses incurred from this accident. Tom was truly the heartbeat of Square Dancing whether dancers know it or not. He will be deeply missed by everyone in the Square Dance community.

With this tragic accident, the Square Dance world has lost a tremendous asset and one of the biggest ambassador's to the activity.
